Manufacturing Services

March 22, 1996

Dear Thomas:

I hope all is well with you and your family.

Currently, Bull Electronics board requirements are very low. The PC demand in the US has dropped off dramatically and many manufacturers are working off 1995 inventories. Therefore, you will not see the level of demand that occurred in 1995. We are aggressively pursuing new opportunities in the Telecommunication, Workstation and Disk Storage markets. We estimate that we will begin to ramp up in early 3Q96.

The main purpose of this letter is to thank you and your suppliers for their efforts in 1995. In less than three months, we moved from supplier selection to high volume production. All are to be commended for their ability to deliver high quality products in a timely manner. Please extend my sincere appreciation and thanks to both SFL and Unitech. I am looking forward to an ongoing future business relationship.

I will call you prior to my next visit to Taipei.

Sincerely,

Robert J. DeFusco
